HIGHLIGHTS OF '65

PATHWAYS TO CHALLENGES AND CHOICES

Throughout the year, Wilsonites tread a myriad of pathways leading to further development of body, mind and spirit. The Marching Band in Washington, D.C. epitomizes bodily development and the desire to compete. The pathway to self-control is depicted as students decide on issues in Student Council elections. Even the seemingly insignificant pathway from the parking lot symbolizes persistence for further mental development through classroom attendance. Finally, the pathway of graduation leading to exciting challenges and choices brings our students to one of the most important crossroads in their lives. Confidently, they will select the pathways that hold the most promise for full and rewarding lives.

Song of the Open Road
Afoot and light-hearted I take to the open road,
Healthy, free, the world before me,
The long brown path before me leading wherever I choose.
Henceforth I ask not good-fortune, I myself am good-fortune,
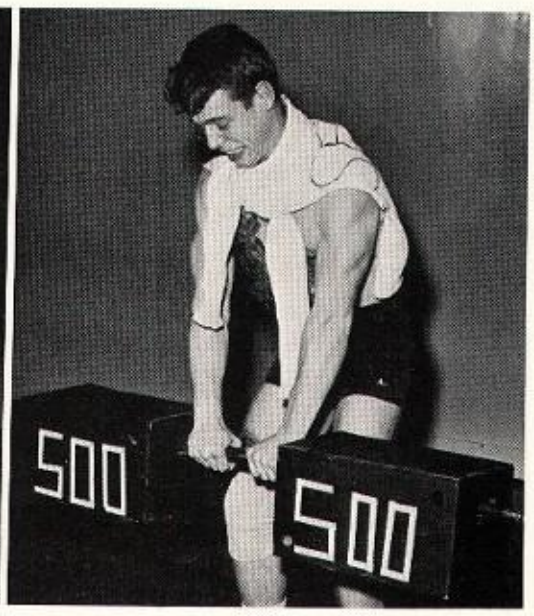
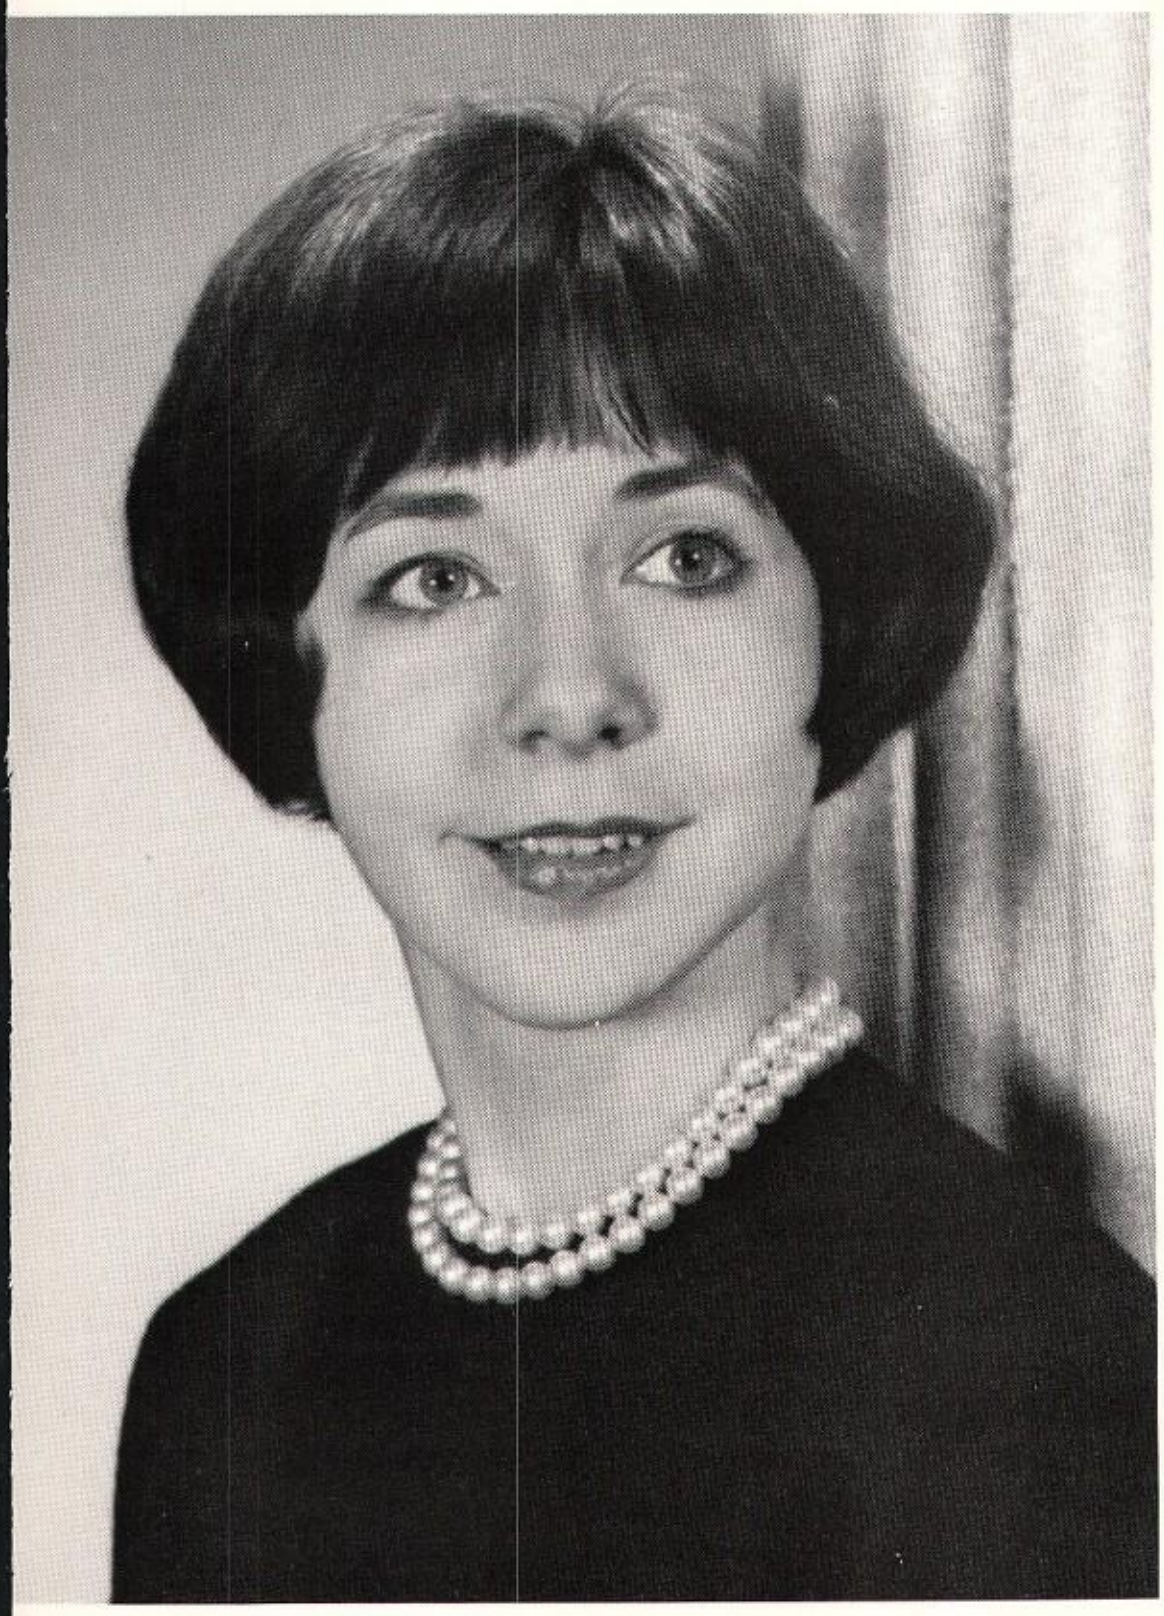
Henceforth I whimper no more, postpone no
more, need nothing,
Done with indoor complaints, libraries,
querulous criticisms,
Strong and content I travel the open road.
Walt Whitman

The open road -- nothing is required but an inquiring mind. Open, indecisive, the potential is unlimited.

During our high school years, we have been traveling a straight path. Eventually we all come to forks in the road. Some will meander behind and follow the crowd while others will blaze their way searching for brighter tomorrows and more beautiful horizons.

So much unknown opportunity lies before us. Some of us, armed with imagination and drive, may rise to material success; others will leave the world's beaten path to travel alone on open roads. There are roads to wisdom, roads to wealth, roads to happiness, roads to just about every aspect of life. Which roads will you choose to travel during your life? Robert Frost might ask you that question in other words: "Will you take the road less traveled?"





DEDICATION

In appreciation of her constant enthusiasm and true understanding, We, the Class of 1965, dedicate our yearbook to Mrs. Nancy K. Fisher.

Through her vivacious personality, she has added life to all her classes and extra-curricular activities. Her spirit of cooperation and sincerity have won our admiration and respect.

Mrs. Fisher has willingly given of her time as advisor to the Senior Class Play and has undoubtedly succeeded in directing an outstanding production.

For opening to us pathways to the enchanted forest of knowledge, the 1965 Wilsonian is dedicated to Mrs. Nancy K. Fisher, teacher, advisor, and friend.

PATHWAYS TO INFINITY

Sky diving is an emerging new sport that reflects America's number one industry -- Aerospace.

The computer is rapidly determining the direction in decision making because of the rapidity in assimilating factual and statistical knowledge. The highly selected personnel of teams for further exploration of outer space are practicing to "float in space" and attempt to realize the same in the next orbit.

Changing Times forecast challenges to the mental, physical, social and spiritual fitness of youth to meet society's unusual demands. Our anthropologists and sociologists forecast an average age of 25 years by 1970, of our total population. So you have the greatest challenge mankind has ever known, on the varying pathways to knowledge.

Yes, "Be Prepared" through learning as you enroll at the various institutions of higher learning or as you learn "on the job."

Graduates of 1965, you are living in an interesting swiftly moving era of history; support if need be, as a supreme sacrifice, your American government. Maintain its free enterprise system and keep the nation a powerful force against Communism to maintain a free World. The best advice given throughout the ages as you advance and select your pathway to knowledge, skills and advancement in position, is to have a sound philosophy of life and a sincere ever growing faith in God, the universal Father of mankind.

William C. Kutz
Chief School Administrator

Members of the Class of 1965:

The faculty joins me in extending heartiest congratulations upon your successful completion of the requirements for graduation from Wilson High School.

Recorded in this annual are many of the high points of your sojourn here which you will cherish as a treasure. Your devoted participation in those activities and your resourcefulness in the academic studies of your high school will serve as a key to "Pathways of Success."

Ultimate success is the goal most of you have dreamed about. However, the road of life is usually not an easy one to travel. The practical approach is to set your sights to the horizon and then do all that must be done to realize your highest ambition. Remember that the true measure of your success is the degree to which you contribute to the welfare of all humanity.

Best wishes to each of you as you pursue a life's vocation fitted to your natural talents and interests.

Very sincerely yours,

Clayton D. Rehrer
Secondary Principal

Sincere congratulations from the junior high faculty and administration on the occasion of achieving an important milestone along your pathways to success. The road thus far, we are sure, was not an easy one to follow for some of you. The temptation to select a less challenging course, and apparently more lucrative at the time, was difficult to resist.

Nor will you find the road ahead well defined and free from distractions and obstructions. It was Carlyle who said, "The block of granite which was an obstacle in the path of the weak becomes a stepping stone in the path of the strong."

It is our hope that the guidance and direction given by your counselors at times of indecision, the encouragement and inspiration from the faculty and parents when the going was tough, and your own determination and perseverance to succeed will continue to serve as important guide posts on your life's journey. You will learn early an important lesson in life that success must continually be won and it is never finally achieved.

We would like to share with you the following bit of anonymous verse:

"Keep pushing -- 'Tis wiser than sitting aside
And dreaming and sighing and wasting the tide.
In life's earnest battle, they only prevail,
Who daily march onward and never say fail."

Sincerely,

Arlan R. Moyer

GUIDES ALONG THE PATH TO WISDOM

To the Graduating Class of 1965:

In today's world of advancement into space, wars and rumors of wars, misunderstandings, hatred, racial disorders, juvenile delinquency, seething discontent because of hunger and poverty, and the growth of nationalism in the African continent, the youth of America must have the courage and fortitude to select the right path to conquer the inevitable shadows of doubt and fear and so to make this world a better place in which to live.

The path to liberty is the path of knowledge. Without knowledge man's mind is enslaved. Therefore, take the path of knowledge to liberate your mind. Strive to develop an ardent and sustained devotion to the advancement and dissemination of knowledge and understanding that you may help your fellowmen.

The path to knowledge is through the world of books. Monuments may fall, nations and their civilizations may perish, but in books the freedom and independence of man the world over can be preserved and strengthened.

Remember, too, to take the path of reverence in your life's work so that you as an individual may help to strengthen the moral climate and fiber of our great nation.

Best wishes for success. May God bless you in your life's work.

Department Head, Mr. Aris Kouvaros -- B.S., Kutztown State College; M.A., Temple University.

Our Guidance Department has the difficult job of helping students plan for their future occupations. Mrs. Riffle, our Junior High Counselor, must help a student decide on his course until 10th grade. Mrs. Herb and Mr. Kouvaros help with Senior High courses, but have the extra problem of seniors wishing to enter college. Deciding on his course and how and where to continue his education is an important question for the student and makes the job of the guidance counselor a very vital part of our school system.

Mr. Paul E. Strunk -- B. S., Shippensburg State College; M. A., Pennsylvania State University.

The Wilson Business Education Department trains students for their future occupations in the business world. The "On the Job" program enables students to work during the afternoon in the offices of local establishments. Thus, business students are getting the best possible training for their commercial careers.

Mr. Richard W. Romich -- B. S., Shippensburg State College.

Mrs. Ruth Hannigan -- B. S., Bucknell University.

THERE'S NO PLACE LIKE HOME ECONOMICS

The Home Economics Department prepares young women for their future lives as homemakers. Leading them in these endeavors are Miss Bast, Mrs. Schemk, and Mrs. Rentchler. They also serve as advisors to the Future Homemakers of America chapter at Wilson. Wilson is proud of its fine home economics course and the fine work it has done in this field. Wilson is one of the few schools to have a chef's course for boys interested in culinary delights.

Mr. Richard Cobb -- A.B., Wilkes-Barre College.

Mr. Grebinger helps an eager student.

Special skills are demonstrated by Mr. Grebinger.

DRIVER EDUCATION

Driver Education is an important part of our secondary curriculum. The initial knowledge of good driving habits comes from within the classroom. After mastering these habits, the students are put to test by "in the car training" where they learn the practical application of their classroom learning. The capable instructors help them to learn these various skills.

What do you mean, you can't pull out without bucking!

The 1964-65 Senior Chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Susan P. Strausser, presented its annual spring concert, "An Evening in Song," on May 21, 1965. Earlier in the year, the Senior Chorus, along with the Senior High Band, presented their Christmas concert entitled "The Spirit of Christmas" at the Rajah Temple.

This year a new group, the Concert Choir, was initiated. The Concert Choir was formed to present special concerts at club meetings, hospitals, and the like. Late in April the concert choir put on a successful program at the Wernersville State Hospital. The group presented a concert for the West Lawn Lions Club.

The Junior High Chorus presents a selection during the annual spring concert.

The many practice sessions of Junior High Chorus produced a polished product -- A fine concert.

Mrs. Susan Strausser directs the Concert Choir in the opening number of the concert, "Evening in Song."

In a change of pace at the concert Linda Lutz and Sharon Johnson, members of the Senior High Chorus, "wail" a folk selection.

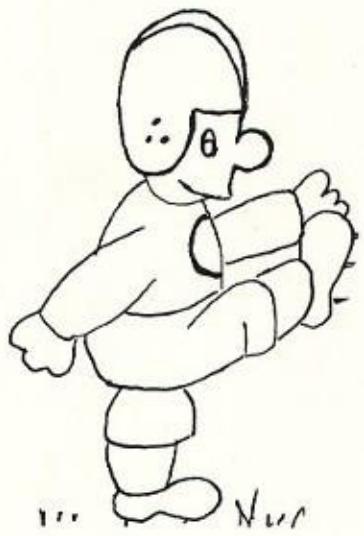
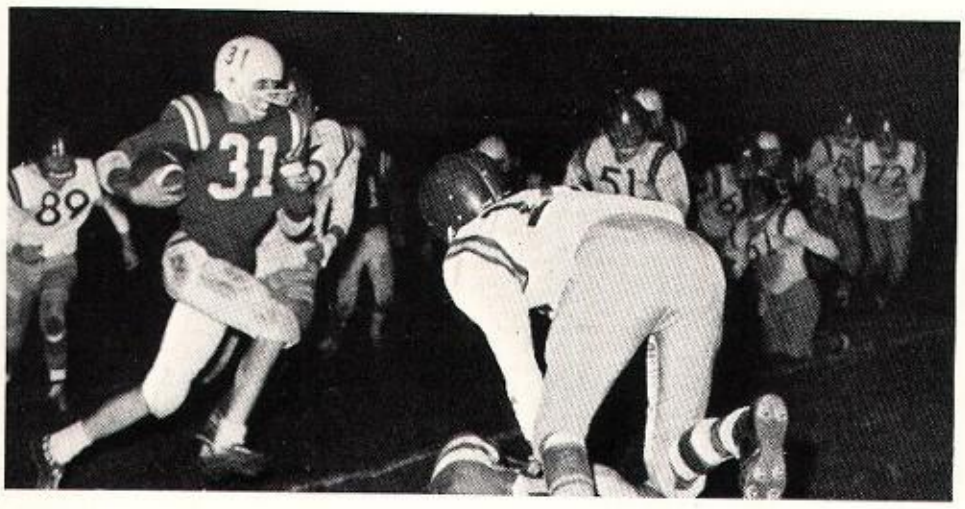
FOOTBALL CAPTURES THE SPIRIT OF WILSON

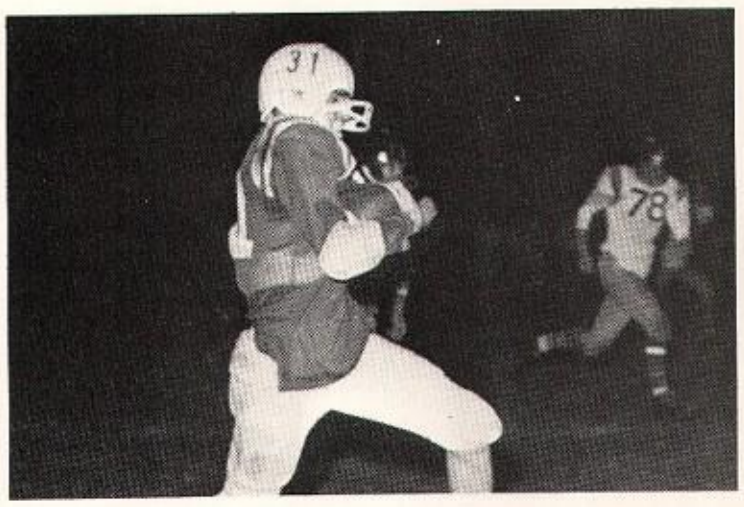
A penalty? Wilson doesn't make penalties!





Lamm roars down the center to make a touchdown.

Wilson's '64 football team was guided to victory by their fine coach, Mr. John J. Gurski. The Bulldogs were led by their able co-captains, Bob Gerth and Mike Babb, who met each opponent with determination and enthusiasm. As the season progressed, the team improved greatly. Certainly, this was a team that deserved to win.



"Wilson has a little Lamm . . . "

Coach Gurski's Assistants -- Miller, Stoppi, Matz, Richie, Wojciechowski, and Bricker.

Under the leadership of the new coach, John J. Gurski, and his capable assistants, the Bulldogs greatly improved their record of previous seasons. The team finished the season with a record of five wins and five losses. The boys put forth a wholehearted effort to make the season a successful one. The coaching staff followed a policy of building a team for the future -- not only for the present. The backing of the team's fellow students spurred the boys on to greater achievements.

Under the expert leadership of Coach Leon Rothermel, completing first coaching assignment here at Wilson High, the 1964-65 Junior Varsity Basketball Team earned their share of victories in exhibition games and a tough league schedule. The team proved to be tough competition for all of its opponents. A combination of skill, endurance, and a desire to win seemed to be their formula for victory on the court. We hope that their success this year indicates better things to come in the area of basketball endeavors at Wilson in the near future.

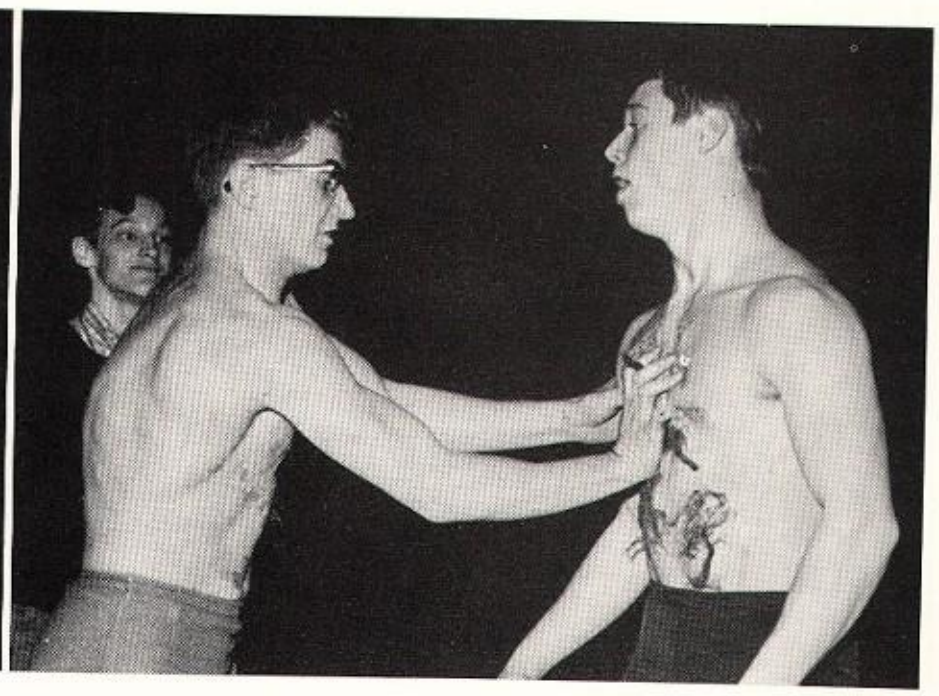
Ben Stothart sneers, "Don't fight it honey, it's bigger than both of us!"

Ronny Matthews, blond bombshell, poses seductively for the crowd.

"And I say it's my jump ball!"

B. Trayer freezes with the ball when he sees mighty Sue Kemp under the basket.



"Ah, who says you can't hit a guy wearing glasses."

TROPHIES GIVE RECOGNITION

LEFT: Twirling Corps' Trophy won in National competition is presented to the school.

Trophies are given to the outstanding players in major sports.

THE GIRLS TAKE OVER

. . . those distrustful faces.

Oh, I can't get my fingers out!

Better watch the ball, Cookie.

The deathgrip.

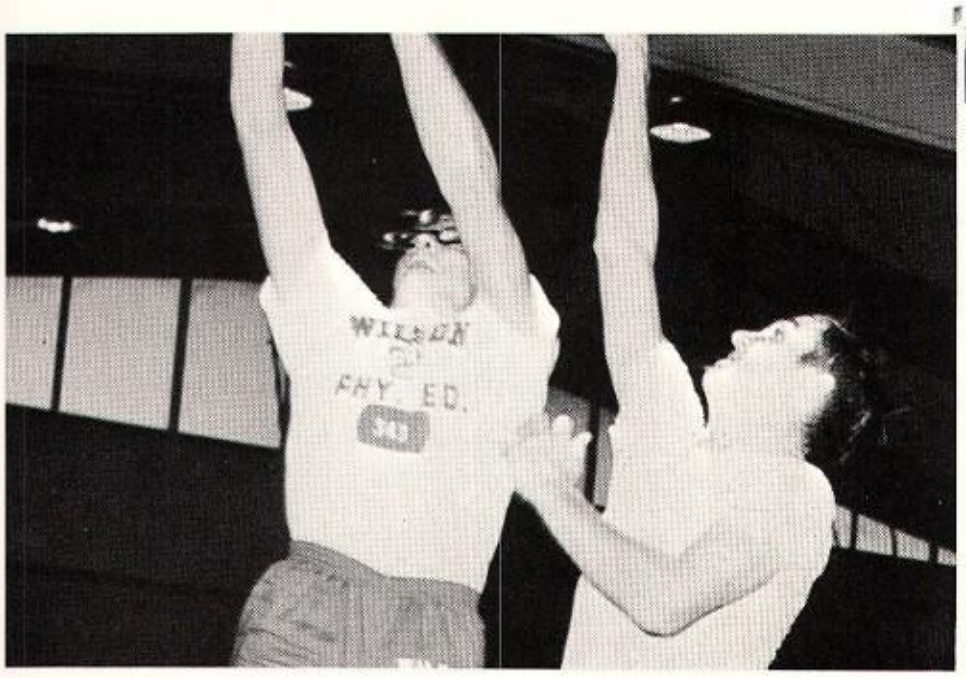
. . . a hair-raising play.

This one has to be a strike.

Keep going, please.

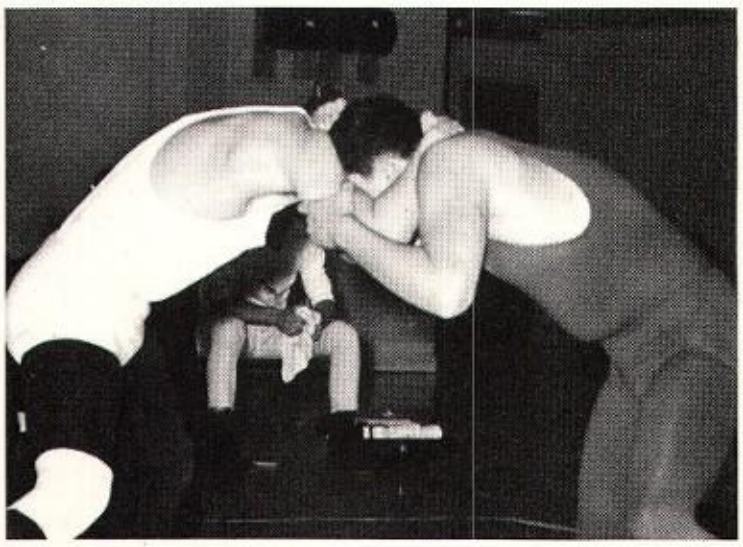
Donna Moyer gives Ben Stothart a few pointers in the annual boys vs. girls basketball game.

B. Allen and B. Ermentrout practice guarding and dribbling.

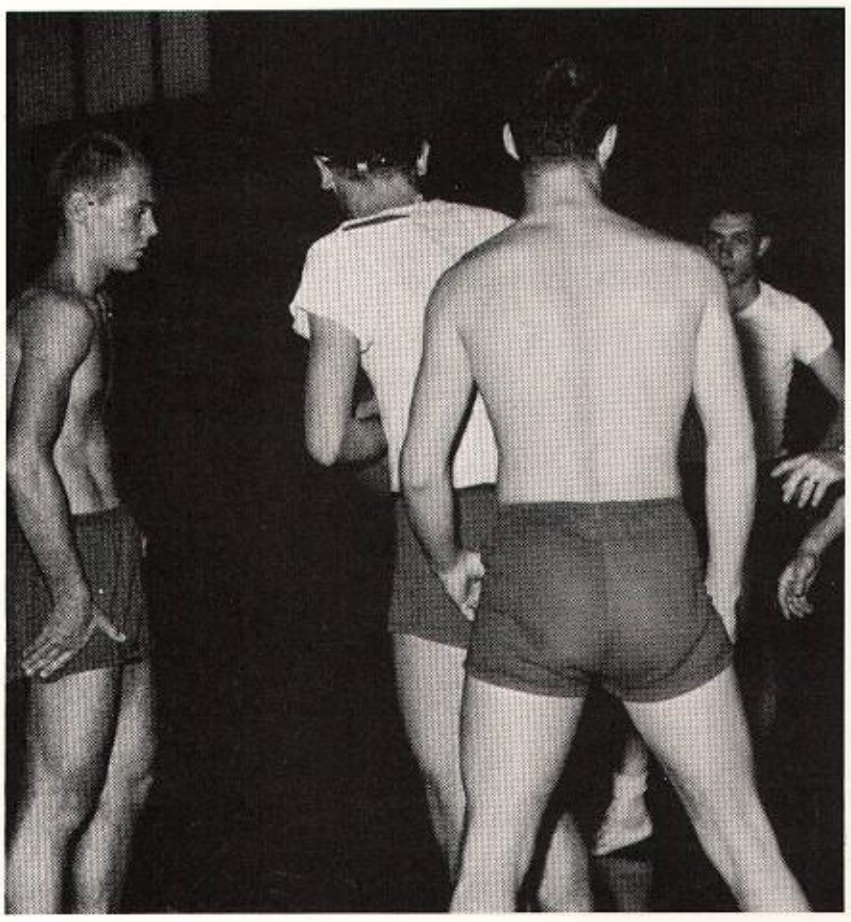


B. Ermentrout exclaims, "Jump higher or I'll tickle you" as B. Allen shoots a lay-up.

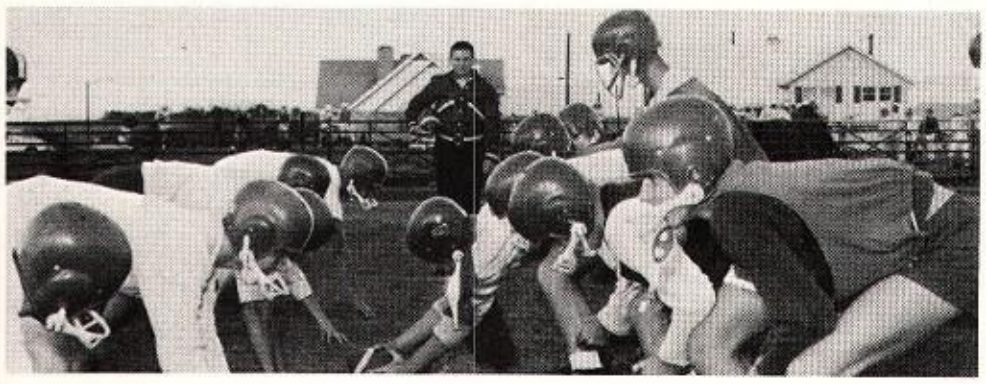
I wonder if Albright will let me wear this uniform next year?



B. Oberreit battles his opponent in the meet in which Wilson upset Kutztown.



John Spadafora gives the guys a "pep talk."



" . . . And if we have a winning season, we get the rest of the uniform."

SENIORS

Senior class officers are: President, Thomas Baker; Vice President, Dennis Quinter; Secretary, Virginia King; Treasurer, Harriet Marks.

To the members of the class of '65:

After graduating, each one of you will be confronted by decisions that will affect your entire future. These decisions will involve choosing the path you wish to take -- the path of conformity or the path of nonconformity. Be an intrepid individual, unafraid to tread "the grassy paths that want wear." In choosing these paths consider your personality, your feelings, your wants, and your needs. As you ponder your future, reflect on the wisdom contained in the following poem, "The Road Not Taken," by Robert Frost.

Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And worry I could not travel both
And be one traveler, long I stood
And looked down one as far as I could
To where it bent in the undergrowth;

Then took the other, as just as fair,
And having perhaps the better claim,
Because it was grassy and wanted wear;
Though as for that the passing there
Had worn them really about the same,

And both that morning equally lay
In leaves no step had trodden black.
Oh, I kept the first for another day!
Yet knowing how way leads on to way,
I doubted if I should ever come back.

I shall be telling this with a sigh
Somehwere ages and ages hense:
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I --
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference.

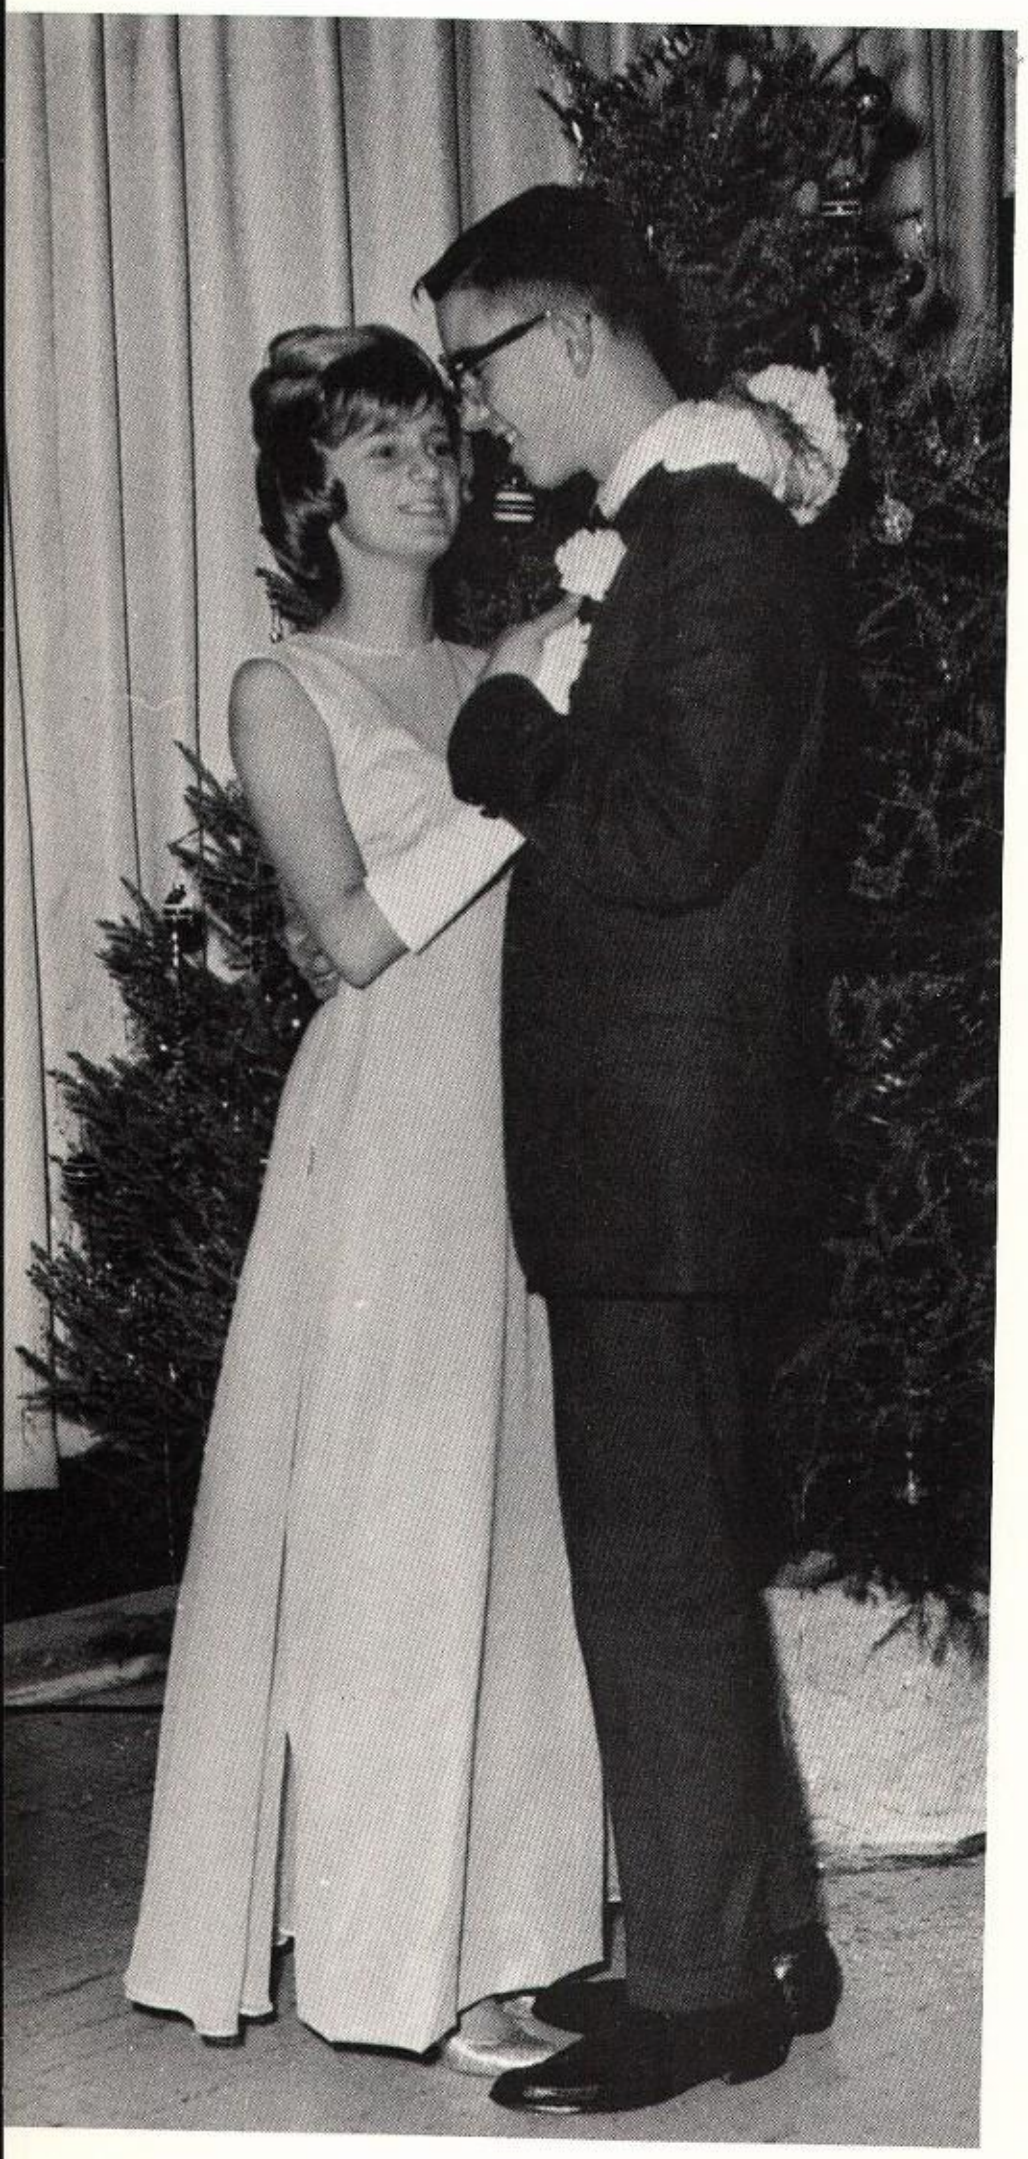
SNOWFLAKE FANTASY



The romantic mood of the Christmas dance is typified by Melodie Moyer and Jeff Kurtz.

The Christmas season was climaxed by the social highlight of the winter. The Christmas dance on December 26, 1964. Happy couples danced to the magic strains of the Skyliners, band for the evening. Gay Christmas decorations and pretty girls sparkled as everyone enjoyed a wonderful evening.

CLASS TRIPS CULMINATE IN WASHINGTON, D.C.

Luring and inspiring Wilson's seniors are three of Washington's main attractions.

This monument portraying the raising of the American flag at Iwo Jima symbolizes our nation's long struggle to greatness.

Seniors take a hurried glance at a statue of one of America's greatest leaders, Thomas Jefferson.

Five tired, wind-blown seniors pause during their hectic tour of Washington.

Wilsonites solemnly pass by the flower-laden grave of the late President John F. Kennedy. Many students considered the stop at Arlington National Cemetery to be the most memorable.

PARISIAN RENDEZVOUS

As the gendarmes pointed the way, Wilson Juniors and Seniors walked into a bit of Paris with side-walk cafes, soft candlelight, and romantic melodies. Outside couples strolled along hand-in-hand looking into gay Parisian shop windows and, making wishes, tossed pennies into the fountain. The Juniors used their savoir-faire as they transformed the gym into the most romantic city of all, Paris -- a perfect setting for a memorable evening.

Mrs. Fisher's background in French helped the decorators with the theme.

Girls work hard preparing decorations to hide the bleachers.

Host Geoff Walsh and Hostess Kathy Potteiger.

A typical Parisian Sidewalk cafe.

Juniors as well as Seniors enjoy the Prom.

Sue and Bob admire the shimmering fountain at the Prom.

Refreshments were served by the 9th grade floaters.

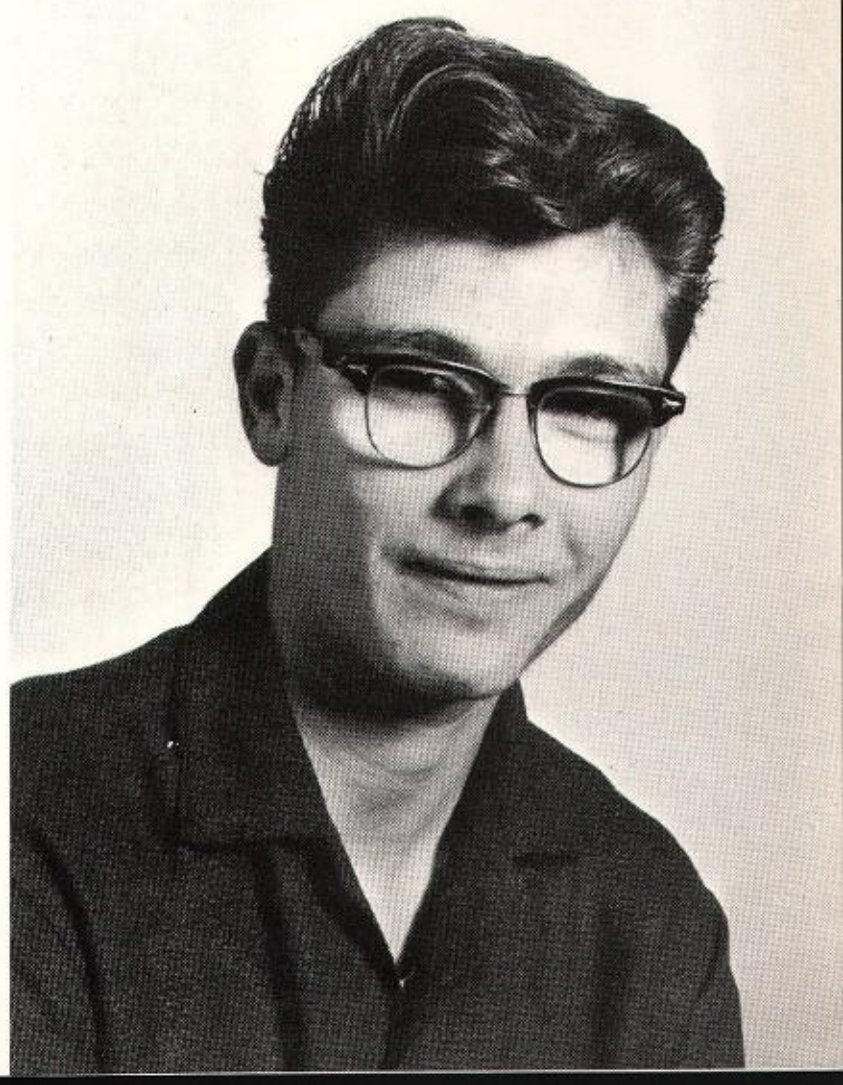
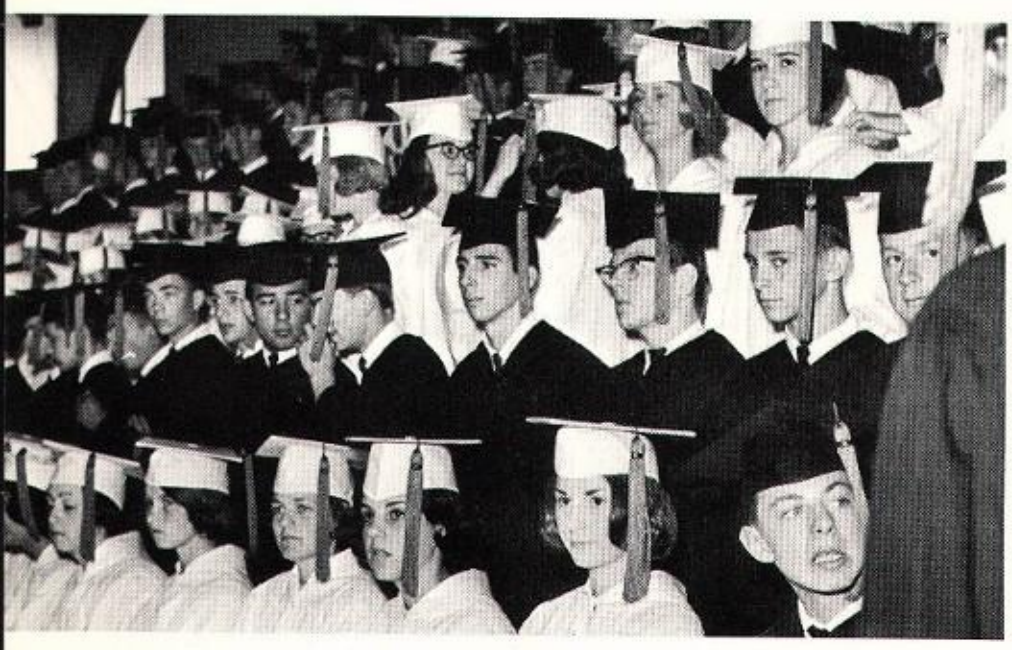
IN MEMORIAM

Richard Heckman passed away on August 29, 1964, leaving with us the memory of his quiet friendliness. The memory of his presence continues to linger in the minds of his classmates. It is with this dedication we hope to keep the spark of our lost friend alive.

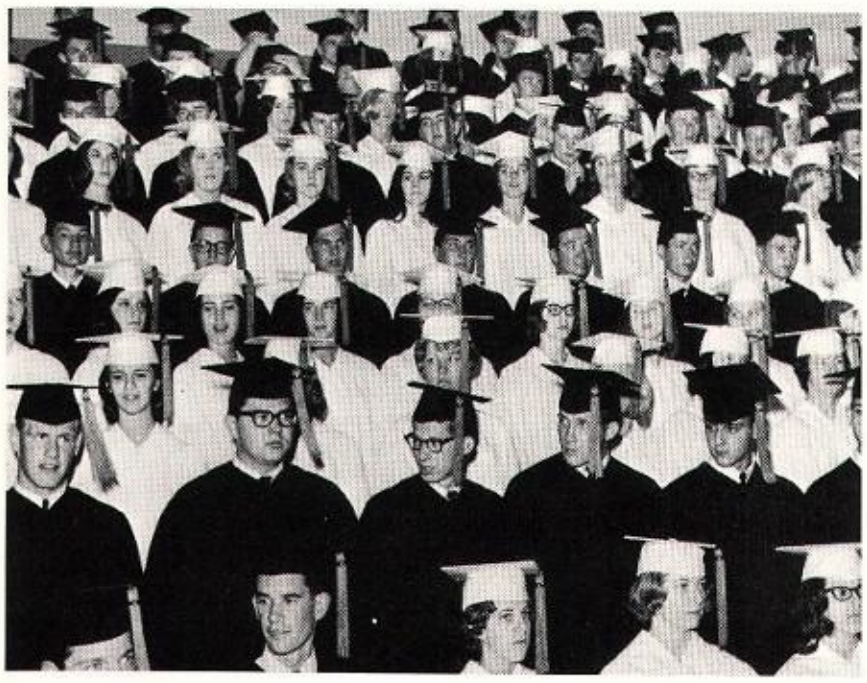


SENIORS PREPARE FOR THE END

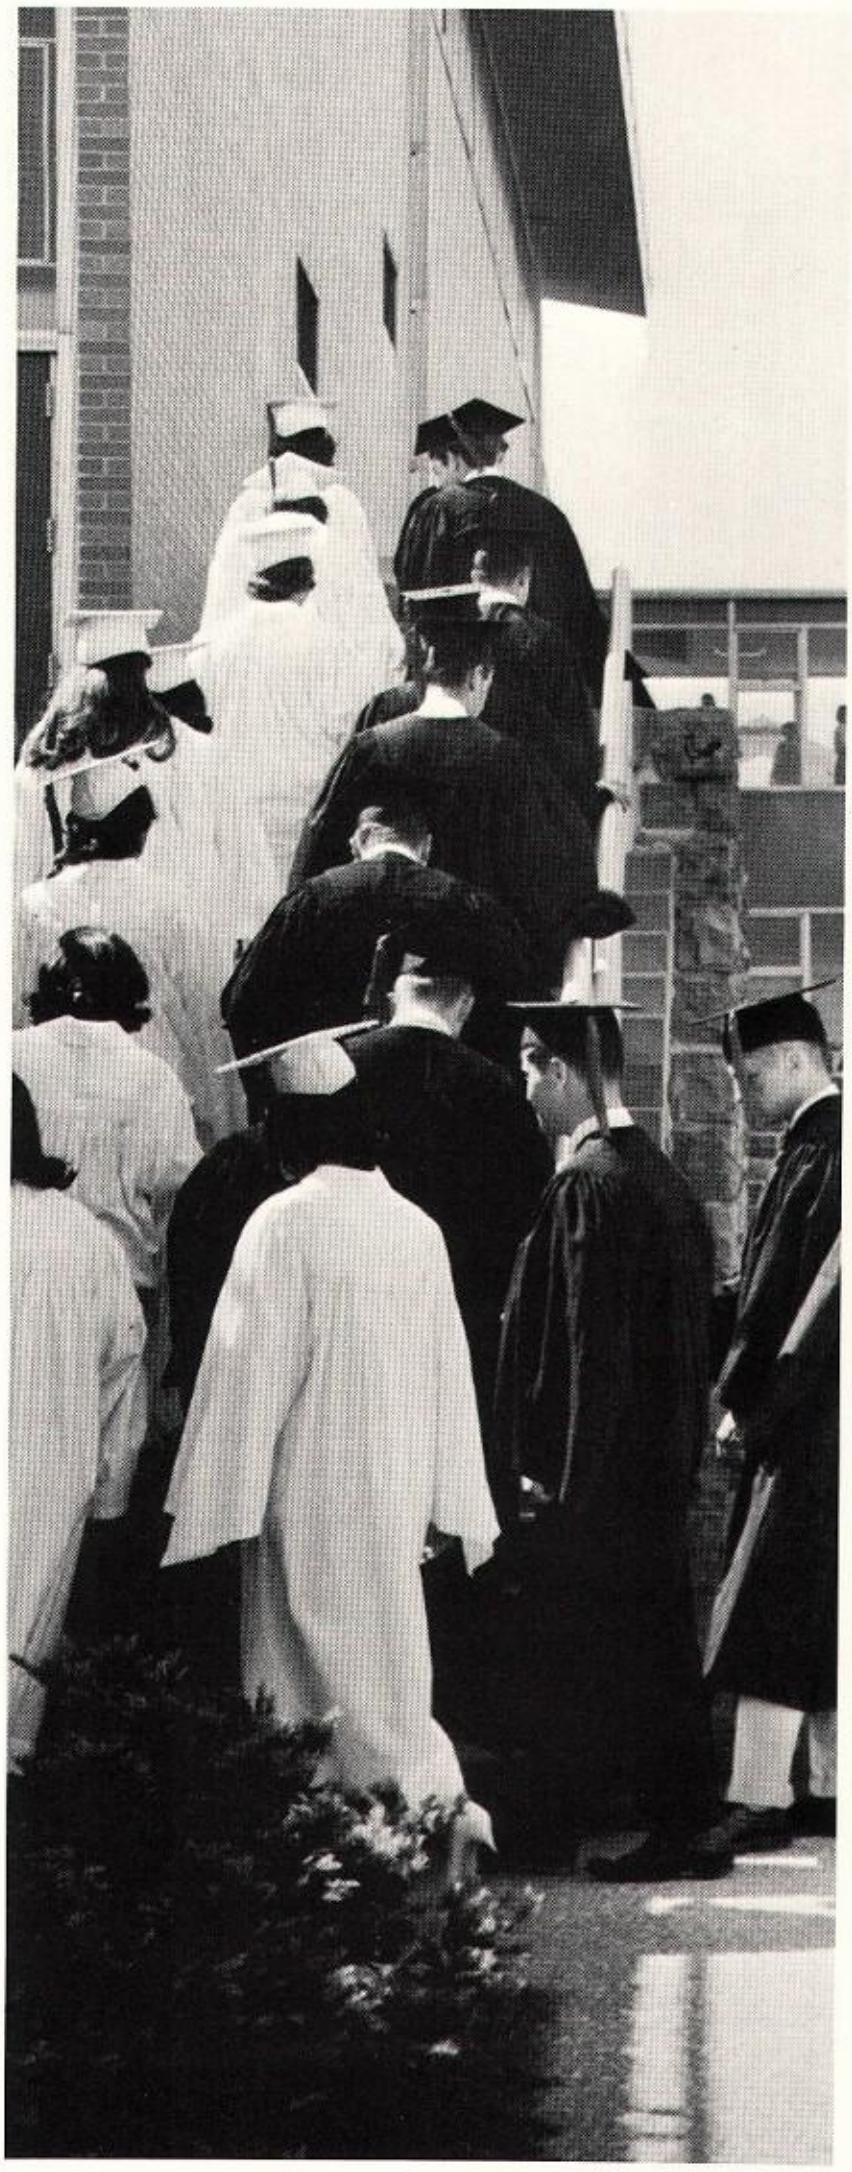
Arrangement for the senior class picture began early in the morning . . .



. . . and continued on and on . . .



. . . and on!



Seniors rehearse for one of their big nights.

THE REVERENT PATH TO BACCALAUREATE

Seniors listen intently to the Baccalaureate speaker.

Don Hicks struggles with his tassel, but for a worthy cause.

Terry Rupp bids a final adieu to Wilson on his way to Baccalaureate service.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES CLIMAX HAPPY SCHOOL DAYS

Rev. Harry Richwine tells the graduating class to "Put The 'U' In Success."

Peter Zacharias, Valedictorian, spoke to his class on knowledge.

A tense group of seniors moves into the Albright Fieldhouse.

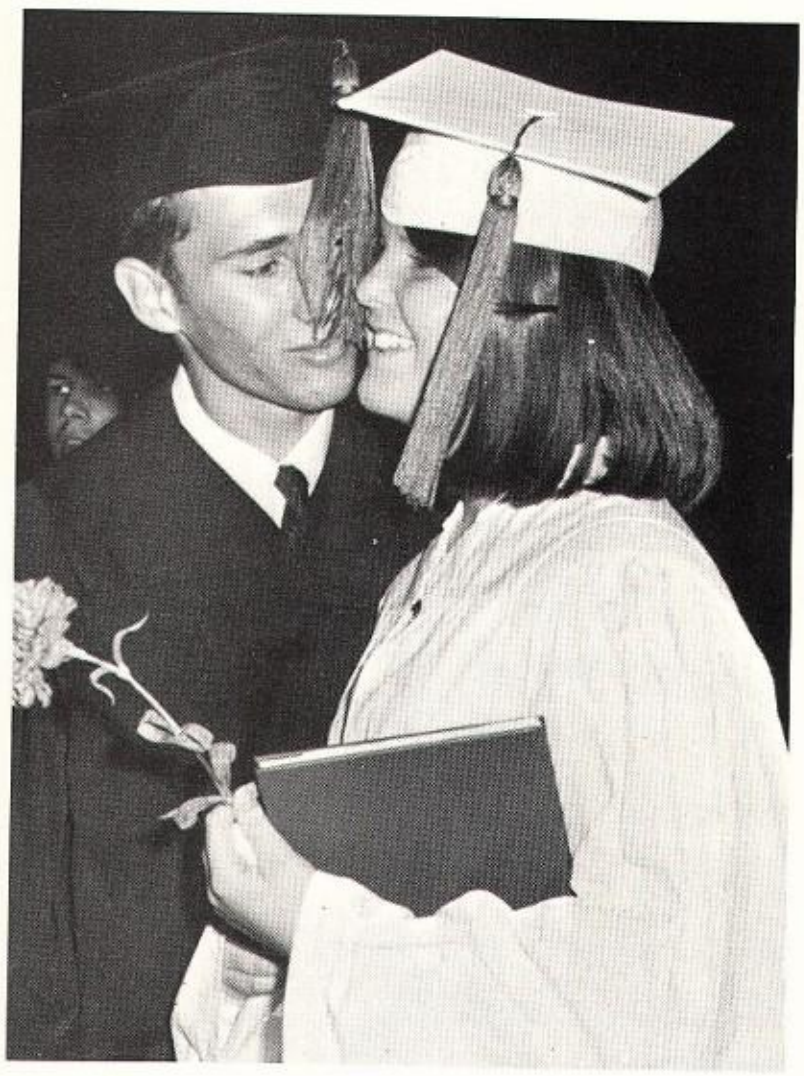
Congratulations . . .



Commencement speakers, Pete Zacharias, Jody Funk, Tom Baker, Kathy Noecker, and David Keehn, wait their turn.

"No more rulers, no more books . . ."

CAP AND GOWN PARTY SIGNIFIES "THE LAST MILE"

Baby pictures are a humorous highlight at the party.

The Trombones entertain during the first half of the party.

Decorations add beauty to the buffet table.

Seniors enjoy their last "fling."

Cookie and Larry decide "to sit this one out."

Jimmy and his toppling tower were the life of the evening.

Graduates are still wide awake in the wee hours of the morning.
